FAQ

What are the legal guidelines regarding accessibility?

Title III of the ADA and the California Unruh Civil Rights Act (CA only) require that "places of public accommodation (including websites)" be accessible.
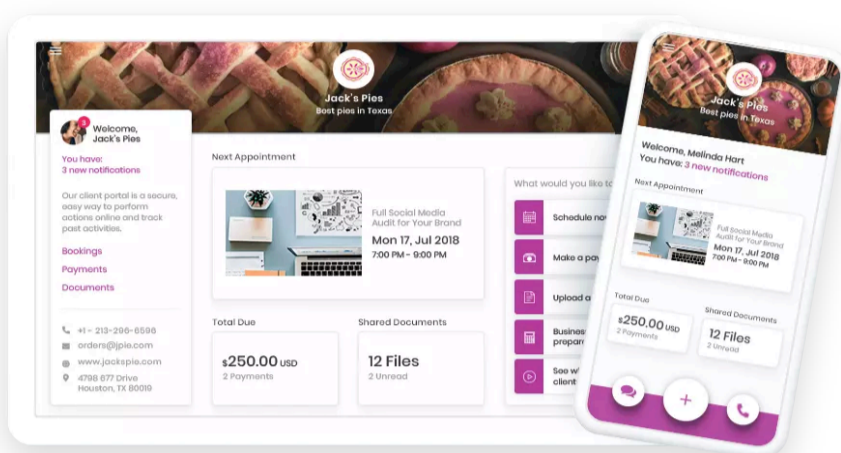

What are the ADA and WCAG?

The ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) is a civil rights law that prohibits discrimination based on disability. The WCAG (Web Content Accessibility Guidelines) is a set of recommendations for making web content more accessible, primarily for people with disabilities.

What will happen if my website remains inaccessible?

If your website isn't accessible, you are leaving users behind and at risk of receiving ADA-related complaints.

FAQ

Can I take care of listings without Localeze?

Technically you can. However, with so many online platforms, social media, directories, mapping, and voice search options, it can take up to 300 hours each year to manually review and update your business information across all of them. Localeze makes it easy.

What is the benefit of managing my listings from my site?

An all-in-one interface makes it easy to review your listing details and update your information. Additionally, Localeze distributes your listing information across the local search network, including real-time syncing to Google Search and Google Maps. It also autocorrects information whenever possible in order to help positively influence search results.

Do the listings automatically update when I update my website content?

Yes. Localeze auto-syncs updates made from your website's content library, such as changes to business hours and payment options.

How much time does it take to update the information to sync with Google and Online Directories?

Localeze enables real-time syncing to Google Search and Google Maps.

FAQ

People can already find me on Google -- do I still need it?

Google is not the only directory. Listings in a wide range of relevant directories can increase visibility on Google. In addition to Google, potential customers use other directories and search engines as well, including other relevant directories like Foursquare, Facebook, Bing, Infobel, Instagram, HERE, Navmii, WhereTo, Factual, Yalwa, Uber and Waze.

What is the difference between one-time and on-going listings?

Online-visibility is comparable to going to the gym. A one-time listing is like going once; it's not enough. Not all profiles are continuously protected if they are not checked regularly. With Uberall, content is regularly being checked and updated as part of an ongoing

Why should I register on so many directories?

Google and your customers know these directories, so you want to make sure you show up when people are searching them for a business like yours.

Does this service impact my Google ranking?

The more often your business details are cited on different directories and online yellow pages, the more opportunities you have for visibility. Google also considers the quality of data, whether the business details are up-to-date, and how your business reacts to customer feedback when determining its search results.
